of spirituality and Dhyana in today's world'

Members of Arka Foundation conducted a programme on 21 February 2021 in Chennai, to honour the book launch of 'Petals of the Heart' (Idaya Malar) in the Tamil language. This book presents inspiring and thought provoking quotations, extracted from Srinivas Arka's talks given worldwide in the last two decades.

The programme included dignitaries and guest speakers; Mr Shantilal Nahar, secretary of Amjain College, Mr Khader Hussain, lawyer in Chennai High Court, Mr Praveen Kumar Tatiya, treasurer of Hindustan Chamber of Commerce, Mr Lakshmini Narshimhan, a science graduate and a humble student of Vedanta, and Mr Ananth.

The guest speakers were touched by Srinivas Arka's philosophy and teachings as well as his globally conducted social work. Srinivas Arka commenced his talk by welcoming the guest speakers, and thanking them for sharing their reflections.

He gave an introduction on how the book reached its stage of the launch today. He also shared some key quotations from the book such as "if you Humble the Ego, the world is yours" and "wherever you walk, the universal forces walk with you" followed by an explanation of its deeper meaning and significance in our day to day life.

This was followed by a Question and Answer session, where deeper philosophical questions like differences between eastern and western philosophy and the link between karma and destiny were discussed.
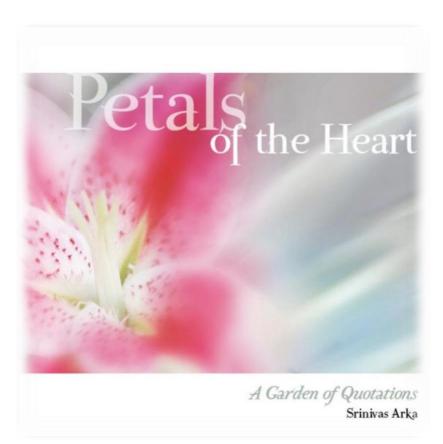

The programme concluded with the launch of the book by Srinivas Arka and guest speakers and an announcement of the next practical seminar and workshop to be held in Chennai for the youth community relating to the Intuitive Intelligence Programme in due course.
